

Wouldn't it be nice to be outside at a Powwow? Hearing the songs, hearing the M.C. announcing "Grand Entry," and listening to the sound of bells and jingles, mixed with the sound of laughter, talking and always children running by you.

If you have an imagination that can take you to that powwow by hearing some good old Powwow songs we are going to try it at the Elder Center. We would like to offer you this activity, but we need your cooperation.

On Thursday, February 11, 2021 during the curbside meal distribution from 11:45 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. the Little Soldier Creek Singers will sing powwow/hand drum songs for you. We plan to put the speakers outside and our singers will be in a safe area singing.

On this day we will have markers in the parking lot for you to follow. If you would like to park and listen, you must follow these guidelines:

- First and most important DO NOT GET OUT OF YOUR VEHICLE. This is very important for all of us.
- Since you will be wearing your mask to collect your lunch please keep it on. Even though you will be sitting in your car we still request you wear your mask.
- Parking will be every other parking stall. Please do not park close to each other and start visiting. You can park all around the Elder Center Building.
- The Elder Center Building is still closed to anyone other than staff. You will not be able to go into the building for anything at this time.

I can't say we will get to do this again. That's why it is important to have your cooperation by following the guidelines. We have to be safe. This activity is weather permitting. Thanks for your cooperation in advance.
